HAWKINSVILLE DOOMED BY FOREST FIRE

LOCAL MAN SEES FIRE MASS FALL

Richmond and the San Francisco bay area has been meteor shocked.

And with the report of the falling of the meteor, into the bay, somewhere between Richmond and San Francisco, a "mystery blast," which shook the entire San Francisco bay area at 2:02 a. m. Friday, Aug. 2, has been cleared up.

Windows and dishes rattled, and the shock was felt over an area of several miles in this section as sleepers were awakened. No damage was reported, however, and a careful check of all the industries and quarries revealed that no explosion has occurred, or blasts set off.

Charles M. Harrelson, night watchman of the California Cap company yesterday cleared up the mystery tremor, when he reported that at the time of the shake he had seen a huge mass of fire sweep into the bay somewhere between Richmond and San Francisco.

The mass of fire was as large as an average dwelling, he reported. It was of an oblong shape and traveled at terrific speed.

A few moments after it struck the water, the terrific explosion which rocked the entire bay area was heard. Harrelson said.

Checks made at the University of California and University of Santa Clara failed to reveal an earthquake at the time of the shake here and officials were convinced that the shake was of a local nature.

The fact that no explosion was reported anywhere and that no evidence was found on land bears out the statement of Harrelson that the meteor which exploded after it hit the cold waters of the bay undoubtedly caused the shake here.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—UP—A complaint charging Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, with statutory offense against 17 year old Eunice Pringle, dancer, was issued today by the district attorney's office.

The complaint charging Pantages violently attacked the girl, was issued after District Attorney Burton Pitts questioned the girl in his office after receiving medical reports of her condition.

The alleged attack upon the young dancer took place in Pantages' private office yesterday afternoon, according to the charges.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Charles Ballard, Pantages' preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday. He was released on $25,000 bond.

Dr. Hannah Beatty, physician at Juvenile Hall, admitted a report to Pitts stating that Miss Pringle had been bitten on the shoulders, arm, and other portions of her body.

40 ESCAPE AS HOME BURNS

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 10.—UP—One hundred men searched the Sonoma hills late today for 40 inmates of the Sonoma State Home for Feeble Minded. Twelve of the 40 are incorrigibles.

The inmates escaped when the left wing of the administrative building was gutted by fire today causing damage estimated at over $500,000. Dr. Fred Butler, medical superintendent had advanced the theory that the fire which destroyed part of the building was started by some of the inmates who escaped.

The escape was made while attendants and instructors were busy assisting firemen from Santa Rosa and other Sonoma county cities combat the blaze.

It was not until several hours after the fire had been extinguished that the 40 inmates were discovered to be missing.

There was little question in the mind of authorities that the fire was set in Paxton hall, in which was located the "violators ward" as a deliberate escape attempt.

Several of the inmates of the ward were of the type of morons classified as dangerous.

The Sonoma state home occupies a large acreage in the section made famous by Jack London as "the Valley of the Moon." It is located near the town of Glen Ellen.

Vacation Days All Over Schools Opens Tomorrow

By One of 'Em

It's over, all over—The glorious vacation season is a thing of the past for Richmond school children.

Tomorrow morning at eight o'clock the school doors will open and thousands of children, with freshly washed, shining faces, will enter the halls of learning.

That motor trip, the "Ole Swimming Hole" those glorious Mondays and Tuesdays will be but a memory as industrious students apply themselves to the workaday task of acquiring an education.

At the high school tomorrow morning at 8:15 more than 300 new pupils will crowd through the halls in search of elusive class rooms. The matter of distracted voices will arise above the shuffle of impatient feet—"Gosh, I was supposed to be in Room 19, where is it? Who's the math teacher?—When do we eat? Someone who made out my program got balled up—Where's the office? How do I get to the cafeteria?"

But finally before the rush of the first day is over, the Sophomores will learn their class rooms memorize their programs and prepare for a semester of hard work.

Good Resolutions

The first day of school is always a day of good resolutions. John Jones, a Junior, solemnly swears that this year at high school he's going to make a "one" in English, be elected class president and make a letter on the football team. John Jones ends the year with a "three" in English, is named chairman of the cleanup committee for the class party and plays in one football game.

But the first day of school, and the second one too, is always a day of pleasure. Teachers are sweet—their task of hammering knowledge into the heads of youths who would much prefer to be outside playing ball has not worn their nerves to a ragged edge—classrooms are new, freshly painted and carry a pleasant sweet odor of oil used to keep the dust from spreading, clean blackboards await the chalk, the books are new and provide some amusement in opening them and, there's a fresh smell of ink and pencil shavings in the air.

Morale night homeward will tread the student, books in hand, eager for the morrow. Tuesday

Mayor Issues Greater Movie Season Edict

PROCLAMATION

"It is with unusual interest and enthusiasm that I call upon the people of Richmond to join in celebrating Greater Movie Season for 1929-30. While this has been an annual institution established some years ago for the purpose of bringing out greater and better Motion Pictures, the 1929 Greater Movie season commands an added interest because of that remarkable, new, notable, scientific and artistic development, the science of talking and sound motion pictures, which has been definitely established during the past few months.

"Therefore, I wish to commend our Fox-California theater for this progressive enterprise and urge the citizens of Richmond to lend their co-operation in the observance of this event.

DE MOSS TO BE BROUGHT HERE

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Aug. 10.—UP—George DeMoss, alleged bandit and highwayman was ordered extradited to California today by Governor Louis L. Emmerson to answer charges of robbery. The order followed a brief conference between DeMoss' attorney, G. W. Sprenger, William Condon, deputy sheriff of Santa Clara county, California, and Assistant Attorney General A. D. Rodenberg.

The officials apparently satisfied DeMoss would not be taken by Colorado authorities when he passes through that state.

George DeMoss is wanted in San Jose with Joe Miller and Jake Fleagle, alias William Holden, for the robbing of E. M. Jenkins last April. Fleagle has been identified as on eof the

RECORD SET ON HOP TO BASE

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 10.—UP—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin after a record-breaking trip across the Atlantic ocean from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrichshafen in 55 hours and 20 minutes, was groggedly and exhaustedly tonight for her next great adventure on a trip around the world, the flight from Friedrichshafen to Tokyo.

Commander Hugo Eckener, satisfied with the excellent performance of the zeppelin across the Atlantic, tentatively set the start for Tokyo at Tuesday morning.

The Graf Zeppelin left Lakehurst on the start of her round the world flight at 11:42 p. m. EST., Wednesday, and arrived here today at 1:02 p. m. (7:02:30 a. m. EST.)

Winds Aid

Aided by favoring tail winds, the zeppelin covered approximately 4300 miles in 55 hours and 20 minutes at a remarkable average speed of about 78 miles an hour.

It was the completion of her second round trip voyage from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst and her time not only beat her previous eastbound record, but that of any dirigible. On her return from Lakehurst in October, 1928, the Graf Zeppelin took 68 hours and 46 minutes, traversing approximately 4500 miles.

The zeppelin brought 22 passengers, some of whom will continue on the trip around the world; a crew of 40 and a cargo of freight and mail.

Hop Lauded

A Zeppelin official close to Dr. Eckener said he considered the flight "one of the outstanding feats of dirigible history, not only because the speed record was broken, but because every motor, every piece of machinery and every man worked in complete harmony."

The zeppelin had a smooth and uneventful voyage, likened by the passengers to a trip on a crack liner in fine weather. The airship followed along the forty second parallel from Lakehurst until past mid-Atlantic, north of the Azores, when she turned to the northwest toward the English channel on Friday morning. At

MANY FLEE AS FLAMES NEAR CITY

SAN FRANCISCO—Aug. 10.—UP—Two great forest fires in California raged beyond control today.

In the northern part of the state near the Oregon line, the town of Hawkinsville was still safe from the encircling wall of flames, and hope grew that the fire might be checked before the community was totally destroyed. Hawkinsville and ranches surrounding were abandoned during the night, when the great Humboldt Mountain fire, under control late yesterday, flared anew and swept in a mad semicircle around the town, following Cayuse gulch.

Town Flee

Only a narrow avenue of safety was left open, and through this the remaining residents of Hawkinsville fled. Most of them were foot. Some ranchers succeeded in loading personal belongings on trucks and driving to safety; others had to abandon automobiles and trucks to the flames and proceed afoot.

Business was at a practical standstill in Yreka, two miles south, as the men of that city joined with rangers attempting to stop the great blaze by back-firing and trenching.

It was believed that the Humboldt fire, which has already destroyed large herds of deer and cattle, as well as valuable stands of timber in the Klamath National forest, might be checked by tonight. One automobile camp has already been abandoned and burned.

Radio Used

The state's second great fire, in the Santa Margarita mountains near San Luis Obispo, so far has resisted efforts of rangers, laborers and volunteers on three fronts to check it. These groups are attempting to correct their efforts by use of field radio sets.

Rising humidity gave hope that the fierceness of the blaze might abate during the night.

One section of this fire, the floor of Rinconada valley, appears as a vast sea of flames from vantage points in the surrounding hills. Miraculously, the Rinconada

THE CAPTIVE

A lovely garden
Dressed in a rainbow,
Roses in velvet gown,
And quart pools of pansies;
Fires, like ribboned lances,
And one full breath of magnolias.
Beyond
A haze of hills
Stead in a violet envelope

I-I would give the whole of it,
And my poor heart
To feed the sea and on my face again,
Taste salt on my lips,
Gaze down from a tiny deck
At a sun-battered Clashed bit of white
Under the port-hole lights—
Like a secret
Spread for my eyes.

The New Children's Crusade

A CRUSADE FOR—instead of BY—children started the other day in Washington when President Hoover gave his blessing to the first meeting of the Planning Committee for the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection.

"The greatest asset of a race is its children," said the President earnestly, "that their bodily strength and development should prepare them to receive the heritage which each generation should bequeath to the next."

The Conference itself, which will meet in the White House early next year, will deal, the President has explained, with such subjects as dependent children, regular medical examination, school or public clinics for children, hospitalization, adequate milk supplies, community nurses, maternity instruction and nurses, teaching of health in the schools, facilities for playgrounds and recreation.

WOMEN, it seems to us, whatever their politics, must support ardently this health for small boys and girls is so definite, so non-controversial, so obviously beneficial a crusade that we sometimes wonder why everybody doesn't drop every other reform to join it.

Almost every reform movement but this has two sides. There can be no opinions about the benefits of prohibition, of the various kinds of censorship, of marriage-and-divorce legislation, of anti-trust-and-the-other. Our own feeling about much moral uplift is that few persons know enough about morality and its springs to arrogate to themselves the moral leadership and reform of others—"tis an awkward thing to play with souls, and matter enough to save one's own."

But how can there be more than one view about the desirability of enough clean, fresh milk for babies, of prenatal and post-natal instruction in their care for mothers, of more playgrounds and fresh air vacations for children, of school examinations of eyes and teeth, of special service for tubercular or crippled or backward youngsters? How can any woman with a heart and a head fail in sympathy for these definite, tangible, verifiable methods of making our world kinder and happier?

We may or may not know what to do with the wayward girl, or the boy gangster, or the political grafter. We know with scientific precision, the food formulae for babies and young children; the sleep, clothes, air and recreation they need; the care to be given them when they are ill. In the matter of children's physical well-being, there is no longer any excuse for throwing up one's hands and echoing Plato's question: "What is truth?" If they are ill and weak, the reason is not that society can do no better but that it doesn't try hard enough—doesn't use the knowledge, the brains, the money, the idealism, the technique and organization which society could

WHAT A BABY IS WORTH

THE WOMAN OF IT: We have a $100,000 baby in our two-by-four—that's raising by $8,000,000 the top price of which you wrote. Our baby is almost three-and-a-half and, like your little neighbor, she rarely cries. From a mere infant she bumped and knocked herself, but it just never seemed to occur to her that crying would help the situation.

She is Perpetual Motion Personified—everlastingly into something. When we sweep, she sweeps; when we wash, she's dripping wet over dolly's clothes.

With all her mischief, we love her so well that we wouldn't exchange her for a dozen prim and proper little ladies. Needless to add, all the money in the mint wouldn't buy her—and there's a million other babies whose mothers feel the very same way.

Willie saw some dynamite—Couldn't understand it quite;
Curiosity never pays,
It rained Willie seven days.

Willie fell down the elevator—
Wasn't found till ten days later.
Then the neighbors sniffed, "Gee wh—

Real deep dish pies are baked in a dish or tin at least three inches deep and carry a top crust only.

The plums cut in halves and cored of their pits are baked with the sugar to a rich juiciness. Sometimes powdered sugar is added over the pies as they emerge from the oven. Baked hot or cold they please the palate. Cream or a ball of ice-cream is often served with the deep dish treat.

Mrs. Willebrandt, Charles E. Hughes and Senator Borah, the Three Who Did Most to Elect Hoover, All Seem to Be Sulking in Their Tents

WASHINGTON, D. C. The first big question after Herbert Hoover's election to the Presidency was: "How long will Borah get along with Hoover?"

The answer was given with reasonable definiteness during the farm relief fight. Senator Borah fought the President more effectively than the well-intentioned though erratic Brookhart.

There were three outstanding orators of vocal celebrities in the Hoover campaign, wherein the candidate wished to refrain from any expression of his own views.

They were Senator Borah, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt and Charles Evans Hughes. That trio gave dignity to a campaign which otherwise might have gone down in history as infamous for religious bigotry.

Mrs. Willebrandt has quit the Hoover Administration cold. She says she wants to earn a living. She says nothing of her disappointments with Mr. Hoover.

Mr. Hughes has gone to Europe to sit on a World Court bench. The Republican Party, now for the third time, has been abandoned by its own.

Senator Borah remains in Washington. The President's political seers would like to evolve some formula by which he will be banished from the face of the earth.

The White House bends the knee to Borah. Ask why and you will be told: "We hate Borah, but he is smart. We fear him. We can engage our public saying, as he does, that the Hoover administration is not a Hoover administration. Borah does not mind them. How we wish he would retire from the Senate, but you are going to pay anything to keep him in."

BORAH SELDOM WRONG
Borah may be wrong about a lot of things. Seldom is he mistaken about people who try to fool him.

The Hoover Administration is trying to soft-soap Borah for purposes which are transparent to the Senator. All of which inclines Washington to the belief that the real battle between Senator Borah and Mr. Hoover has yet to begin.

Unless all signs fail, Borah the Elder Statesman, is preparing to upset the Hoover "apple cart" and scatter to the four winds the Administration's well-thought-out plans.

The Idaho Senator, generally credited with being the one man above all others who most aided Mr. Hoover to the Presidency, is now found opposed to most of the Hoover ideas. The result will be that he, rather than the natural enemies, the Democrats, will prove the thorniest of the thorns that seek to harass the new Administration.

Borah, with whom the word "enigma" has come to be recognized by Washington observers as synonymous, has stepped back into the character in which he is most easily recognized—instant.

Always a potent force in the Senate, he can bestrew Congressional paths with the wreckage of Presidential hopes. It begins to look very much as though he intends making the effort when the Senate gets back to work, on Aug. 19.

Borah is furnishing Washington's only intriguing midsummer anomaly. He is getting a vast amount of amusement out of the fact that the Administration seems to be out of step with him. A year ago he was stumping the country singing the praises of Hoover and the Republican Party. Today it appears, he thinks a lot of unwise things have been done by the Administration.

The Senator is at odds with Mr. Hoover on the informal proposal for reduction of naval armaments which is to be taken up with Premier MacDonald of Great Britain, with the Hoover farm relief scheme as it is believed in avoiding the political rut.

The World's Window

By Pierre Van Paassen

PARIS, August. Written a fine essay on Beethoven, Mr. Herriot has revealed himself as a great European.

Jan Christian Smuts
Smuts

A character sketch of "Jan Smuts of the British Empire" appears in "My Magazine." It was the article states, that fine statesman and historian, Lord Bryce, a man of wide experience, as penetrating in judgment as he was reticent in praise, who declared that the great war revealed only three great men, and one of the three was from the overseas British dominions. To this son of the British Commonwealth he awarded, by natural rank, the position of a statesman of the rare type that transcends national limitations and has the higher vision without which the world perishes. At the conclusion of the campaign in German Southwest Africa Gen. Smuts was called to London. Soon he became a Minister-of-all-work. Did the air of London need strengthening? Was there any difficulty with the Allies? Were delicate negotiations to be opened with an enemy? Smuts was the instinctive chosen over and over again. Soldiers and statesmen alike respected his judgment. And withal he had a moral elevation, a breadth of view, a nobility of outlook that went to the hearts of men. He became at a bound one of the few men to whom every one looked for wisdom, a spokesman and for the world. When Italy received a staggering blow he hastened to the Italian front, interpreted the position and quickly and unerringly forecast the issue. When the peace came he and his friend Borda were two of the most universally trusted of the plenipotentiaries who were called to Paris, and could many of his views have been carried out there would have been a better peace. "You know," he said once, "God is writing a heavy very different from this." And that view he expressed many times.

Smuts has been built for greater things than those which normally emerge from South African politics. He is one of the few men fitted to appeal to the imagination and the conscience of civilized mankind. Roosevelt said once that the Dutch became the backbone of any country to which they emigrate. Here is one who became a pillar in the British Empire.

Mr. Herriot's "Beethoven"

Only a man with the soul of a musician can analyze music. And only such a man could have written "The Genius of Beethoven" by Edouard Herriot, former Prime Minister of France. It is a piece of work palpitating with life. The portrait of the giant that was Beethoven becomes immeasurably clearer under Mr. Herriot's lucid style. If we look for Herriot himself in the book, here he is:

"We believe that the problems of Europe are insoluble through the old formulas, we who are seeking in good faith a new order of things in which the genius of every nation can develop itself in a peaceful manner."

And further on, the subject of Beethoven's patriotism: "That attachment to a fatherland is the most essential condition of a sincere love for a large humanity. Abstract internationalism is only a chimera."

The man who is most attached to his duties toward other nations is he whose soul has sufficient resources to harbor love of family, of native soil and of his own country." Apart from having

FROM THE WISE

Ignorance lies at the bottom of all human knowledge, and the deeper we penetrate the nearer we arrive unto it. For what do we truly know, or what can we clearly affirm, of any one of those important things upon which all our reasonings must necessarily be built: time and space, life and death, matter and mind. —Colton.

The art of humbugging would lose half its potency were it not for that innate love of the marvelous, which has its germ even in the most well-balanced minds. —Mrs. Jackson-Winchester.

DIRECTIONS FOR BEING HELPFUL
ONE of the most fascinating vocations is being manager of a summer hotel in the summer and winter hotel in the winter. This gives you your springs and autumns off.

The best way of becoming a hotel manager is to work your way up from last man in the line of bellhops to front boy, then room clerk, assistant manager, and, until you are head waiter on the roof. When you have got up this far take the elevator to the ground floor and install yourself in the manager's office.

All this takes time, ability and training. But by following our easy system you can reach the goal. The first and most important lesson is how to be a bellhop. Here it is:

LESSON I. HOW TO BE A BELLHOP
The object of a bellhop is to get as many tips as possible so you can buy the hotel. But in order to get good tips it is necessary to do something helpful. On showing a summer hotel guest to his room, therefore, you should unlock the door and let the guest inside. This is where your helpfulness starts.

Go to the windows. If they are open, close them. Or if they are closed, open them. In case some of the windows are closed and some are open, close those that are open and open those that are shut. That is a trick at a tip. If he wants no additional blankets, no water or combs, so over and turn on the reading lamp behind his bed. By now he should be feeling that you are trying to make things comfortable for him and kick in handsomely.

If he is still dissatisfied, your next move is to find out what he wants to do. Take the key from the outside hole and rattle it into the inside one and say, "Now is there anything else I can do?"

If this fails, start in all over again lowering open windows or closing those that are open. The guest can't win.

Crediting Beautiful Teeth

THE creation of strong, good-looking teeth is a job which must be begun before birth. Attention, mothers-to-be.

A dentist who is eminent in his profession, told us once, "If all the expectant mothers were to eat whole wheat bread instead of white bread, pies and cakes, and make it a rule to have some spinach each every day—preferably raw—the dentists of the next generation would have to turn to engineering."

This same man told us that baby's mouth should be washed in the morning and at bedtime with a weak solution of boracic acid. This practice to be commenced before the appearance of the first teeth, and kept up for a month after.

The correct procedure for washing the little mouth is as follows: Wrap a piece of absorbent cotton about the finger tip, dip it into the fresh boracic acid solution—a quarter of a teaspoonful of powdered boracic acid to a pint of pure water. Gently cleanse the tongue, the gums and the roof of the mouth.

The first teeth demand very special care, since their condition directly influences the state of the second crop. Once a week wash these early teeth, with milk of magnesia and cleanse them daily with distilled water.

When teething time approaches, wise mothers add lime water to the daily ration of milk. Lime is a vital ingredient in the making of teeth, you know, and the person who is fed it early in life does comparatively little suffering in the dental chair later on. Ask your physician to give you the proper proportions of lime water and milk for your "baby's milk."

At the age of three, every little human being ought to be presented with a tiny tooth brush and instructed in its proper use. Pleasant tasting tooth paste or powder—and the good example set by the parents—will make this so important daily duty a happy habit.

And if the periodic visit to the dentist for professional checking makes the terrifying experience which it is to altogether too many people.

Baking Suggestions
To make good pastry keep your hands cool when mixing it and lift hands high when rubbing in the shortening so the air will pass through it.

You can make the butter go further if you bring half a cupful of milk to a boil and let it cool. When lukewarm add a quarter-pound of butter and beat with egg beater until mixture is thick and creamy and place in refrigerator to harden.

In mixing a batter lumps of flour will not form if you put the salt into the flour before wetting it. You can also avoid lumps if you put the flour into the liquid, instead of pouring the liquid into the flour and beating it with a fork.

The cake will not stick to the tin if you use unsalted fat to grease the tin and after greasing them coat them lightly with flour and shake out all loose flour.

CHRYSLER ANNOUNCES THREE NEW MODEL 'SIXES'

66 MODEL TO SELL BELOW $1000 AT FACTORY; NEW 70, 77 MODELS ANNOUNCED

Walter P. Chrysler today announces the introduction of three new lines of 6-cylinder cars bearing his name.

The three new Chryslers have been christened the "77," the "70" and the "66." The "77" has a price range from $1,595 to $1,795, the "70" from $1,245 to $1,395 and the "66," the first six under the Chrysler name to sell under $1,000 at the factory, from $985 to $1,065.

Many noteworthy engineering advancements have been embodied in the new cars. Among the wholly original features introduced by the "77" and "70" are:

The Multi-Range gear shift, an entirely new principle in power control, the synchronized power system, engineered as a unit from radiator to rear axle; down-draft fuelization, a scientific advancement in carburetion; larger and more powerful engines, for increased speed and wider performance possibilities; paraflex spring suspension and Chrysler-type rubber shock insulators, affording the last word in comfort; archtomic bodies, new in the science of their design and construction; new smartness and style that transcend all existing ideals and new interior luxury and elegance with true Chrysler finesse. These outstanding features are in every sense of the word original and make their appearance for the first time in the new "77" and "70."

New Body
The "Archtomic" principle of body construction is an exclusive Chrysler development that revolutionizes the science of body building. This structure of rebraced with pillars and joints measurably increased safety. Longitudinal and lateral shifting action of the body have been reduced to a minimum, and the elimination of metal contact and the use of hardwood throughout disposes of all annoying squeaks, rattles and rumbles.

The new synchronized power system, completely balanced and engineered as a unit from the radiator to the rear axle, attains the effect of one scientifically unified mechanism. All models are powered with engines of the famous Chrysler silver dome principle, which gives high compression power with ordinary fuel. In the "77" and the "70" the large crankshafts are fully counterweighted and supported by seven interchangeable main bearings of generous size. They have aluminum alloy pistons with Invar-struts and tongue-and-groove piston rings, a rigidly webbed crankcase, full-force feed lubrication, impulse neutralizer, oil filter and scores of other refinements.

The "77" develops a maximum of 93 h. p. at the brake. It has a bore of 3 3/8, a stroke of 5 inches and displacement of 268.4 cubic inches. The "70" has a bore of 3 1/8, a stroke of 4 3/4 inches and displacement of 218.6 cubic inches. It develops 75 h. p. at the brake.

New Power
An important element of the synchronized power system, the exclusive Chrysler-built Multi-Range gear shift, unlike any folding, a substitute for the Chrysler engineers say, renders the control of a car far more simple, more effective and safer than ever before. It has four forward speed ranges; heavy duty starting—accelerating and driving range. The accelerating range permits unequalled pick-up and hill climbing, while the driving range is a direct drive and all-Paraflex spring suspension, designed to absorb torsional strains and rebound at the curb's extremities by checking the inward, the starting, accelerating and driving range position being located the same as first, second and high of the ordinary transmission. The heavy duty range is intended solely for very hard pulling, in deep mud or sand. It is latched out of the shifting quadrant by a strong spring and is located to the left of the starting range.

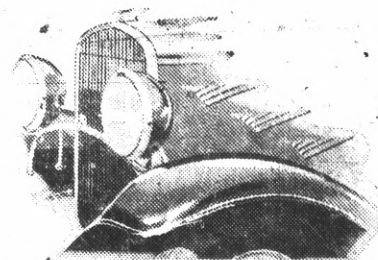

Chrysler presents for the first time the revolutionary down-draft carburetion, a principle of fuelization new in automobile engineering. Airplanes have had a similar system, but it has not been used heretofore on passenger cars. The carburetor is mounted above the engine instead of at the side, permitting the fuel to flow downward aided by the force of gravity. In the Updraft type, the fuel mixture must always be lifted against gravity. This simple, fundamental difference produces an amazing gain in horsepower. The fuel is brought to the carburetor by means of a fuel pump which has been developed to a remarkable degree by Chrysler engineers. A fuel pump, equipped with a strainer, operates in unison with the engine, insuring a positive, adequate and uniform supply of fuel under all engine loads and speeds and under all operating conditions.

Decarbonizer Used
In the "77" and the "70" the Chrysler decarbonizer employs a new fluid "Carbosolve," which eliminates the deposits that cause carbon "ping" in the engine. Contributing to the greater riding comfort of Chrysler cars, is the extra-depth girder type double-drop frame, of exclusive Chrysler design, provides a lower center of gravity without reducing road clearance and forms a foundation that withstands the roughest roads and hardest usage.

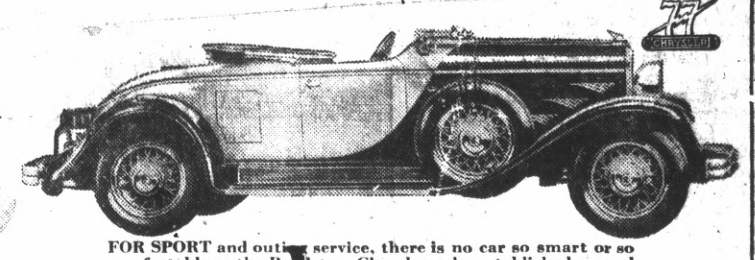

New Design
Externally, the new Chrysler models have no counterpart in present day design. A higher and wider radiator makes the frontal area more impressive than ever. Beautifully molded "air wing" fenders have areas that are in perfect accord with the arched tie rod, curved bumper and graceful slender-profile radiator shell. The large headlamps are of new design. Attractive, scow-type lamps are located on the front pillars just below the windshield visor. All bright work is chromium plated.

Viewed from the side, the design is equally individualistic, and with new pillow-type cushioning and spirited decorative touch to the side of the hood, of back, the Crown and Town models have folding center arm rests in the tonneau. In the contributing further to the general appearance of the hood, the right side of the car, is further enhanced by an embossed V-shaped section, painted to contrast with the surrounding portions of the hood. No cow hand is used on the "77" and "70" bodies in order that the full "streamline" effect may be maintained. On the town and crown sedans a dashing touch is added by a chromium-plated grille band extending completely around the bodies, parallel to the belt moulding. Chromium plating also appears in another new feature—the Archtomic—just inside the "77" window reveals and also in the rims of the wheels and along the edge of the running boards. Over the arched tie-rod, chrome numerals designating the model number—"66," "70" or "77."

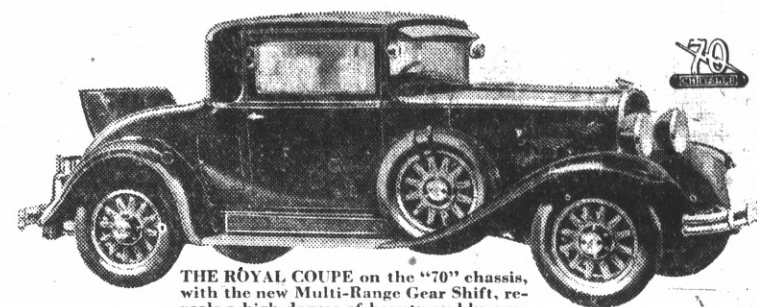

New Chrysler to be Shown Motorists

Pennon louvers—suggestive of wings in flight—give the Chrysler hood an original and distinctive appearance. Electrics is further emphasized by the arched tie-rod, slender-profile radiator and full crown fenders.

FOR SPORT and outing service, there is no car so smart or so comfortable as the Roadster. Chrysler, who established several years ago the vogue for this type of car, introduces now on the "77" chassis a fleet-appearing Roadster of entirely new design, with the new Multi-Range Gear Shift. The rakish exterior is distinguished by unique pennon louvers and a depressed "streamline" moulding. In addition to the rumble seat, there is a spacious golf compartment on the right side. The driver's seat is adjustable.

THE ROYAL COUPE on the "70" chassis, with the new Multi-Range Gear Shift, reveals a high degree of beauty and luxury. Spacious rumble seat, golf compartment, adjustable driver's seat and a rear window that may be lowered for conversation with passengers in the rumble, are some of its features.

LOW IN PRICE and economical to operate, the new "66" Royal Sedan is low and fleet in appearance, with ample space for five adult passengers. This body type reflects typical Chrysler craftsmanship in the dynamic symmetry of its lines and proportions, as well as good taste in appointment.

The beautiful instrument panel of the "77" models, executed by Cartier, is original and modernistic in conception, furnishing an interesting motif which is carefully incorporated in the design of every interior appointment.

New Rear Deck
On the "77" roadsters, the rear deck has an attractive sweep based on the contour of the rear fenders. On the "77" roadster and phaeton, a special depressed moulding, flanked on each side by delicate striping, emphasizes the long, rakish appearance of these bodies.

A feature of all models is the new, scientifically tilted and internally operated non-glare windshield of the ventilating type.

The body types available in the new "77" include three sedan models—the Royal, Town and Crown sedan. There are four coupes, Royal, Crown, Business and Convertible, and the open models are the 6-passenger Phaeton and Roadster with rumble seat. The "70" model has six body styles—Royal and Business coupes, Royal sedan, brougham, phaeton and roadster. A variety of color with upholstery to match are available.

NEW LUXURY
True Chrysler luxury is apparent in the interiors. The appointments are in exquisite taste. Metal fittings are executed by Cartier and Cie, famous Paris and New York jewelers. Beauty of the instrument panels is enhanced by a distinctly modernistic motif repeated in the metalwork designed to give the advantages of high compression power. In addition to the high compression cylinder head used, another paraflexing and spirited decorative touch to the side of the hood, of back, the Crown and Town models have folding center arm rests in the tonneau. In the contributing further to the general appearance of the hood, the right side of the car, is further enhanced by an embossed V-shaped section, painted to contrast with the surrounding portions of the hood. Over the arched tie-rod, chrome numerals designating the model number—"66," "70" or "77."

New Springs
Comfort for driver and passenger is provided by an entirely new type of silent block spring shackle. This new, wrapped-mounted shackle employs an entirely new principle of the application of rubber in motor car design. The new shackles incorporate a core of live rubber, an inner bushing and an outer concentric sleeve. It requires no lubrication and no attention except for keeping the shackle bolt tight at all times.

Hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment.

Safety and road performance are enhanced by the Chrysler hydraulic 4-wheel brake system. The brakes are of the weather proof internal-expansion type.

Roomy Bodies
The bodies of the "66" are exceptionally roomy. Rear quarters are steel paneled. Windows are arched. Doors are wide to permit easy entrance and egress. The equipment includes leather vanity cases, ash receivers, rear door pockets, dome lights, robe rail and foot and arm rests. In combination with these artistically executed features, the rich walnut finish, garnish moldings and the satin finish metalwork of original Chrysler design creates an atmosphere of fine car elegance.

Windshields on the closed models are of the vertically ventilating type equipped with an automatic wiper and cadet visor. The front corner pillars are slender, providing the widest possible range of vision from the driver's seat.

It is powered with an engine of the Chrysler Silver Dome high compression principle, with a bore of 3 1/8 and a stroke of 4 3/4 inches, developing 65 brake h. p. The engine is equipped with a positive fuel pump instead of a vacuum tank. Using any grade of gasoline the "66" engine is designed to give the advantages of high compression power. In addition to the high compression cylinder head used, another paraflexing and spirited decorative touch to the side of the hood, of back, the Crown and Town models have folding center arm rests in the tonneau. Speed Limit In N.M. Increased

A speed of 45 miles per hour, with due regard to traffic and safety conditions, went into effect on June 11. The State Highway Commission of New Mexico has posted all roads with safety signs at spots entailing any risk. The speed limit on approaching railroad tracks is 15 miles per hour; a speed of 20 miles per hour being allowed in business districts, and 25 miles per hour in residence districts and public parks—unless a variation is demanded by local authorities and so stated on signs.

RETAIL PRICES OF NASH CARS REDUCED

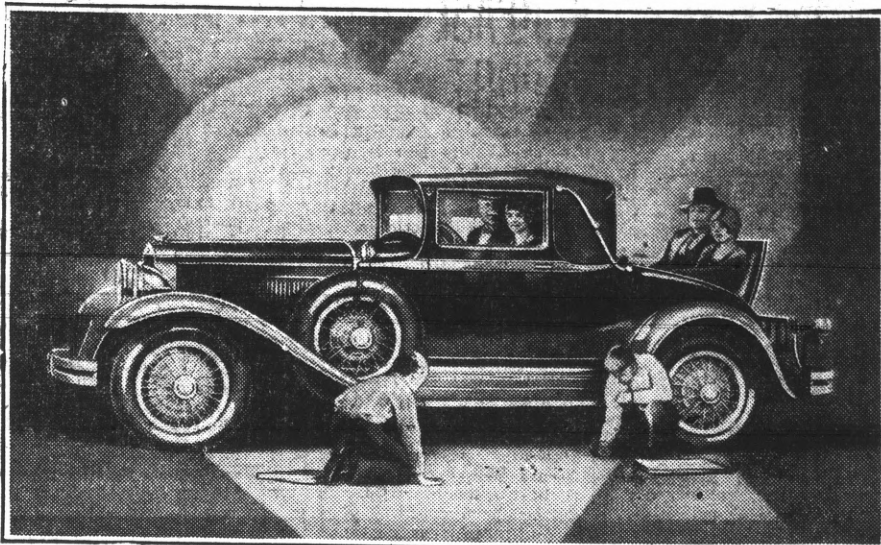

KENOSHA—WIS., Aug. 10.—(Special)—One of the most important automobile announcements of the current automobile year came today, when C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, notified his national sales organization of sweeping reductions in the retail prices of the famous Nash "400" Series cars.

Effective August 12, he declared, the motoring public will benefit by reductions on "400" models, ranging as high as $300 a car. This drastic lowering of prices on the cars whose international popularity has broken all Nash sales records will affect models in the two popular price groups—the Advanced Six and the Special Six series. The exact reductions on each model will be announced locally.

This big Nash price reduction which comes as a welcome surprise to motorists the country over following the brilliant success of these new type, twin-engine and advanced design cars, is made primarily to clear the manufacturing decks for the introduction of new Nash models later this year, according to the company officials. The new cars, they declare, will carry higher prices than those prevailing before the present reduction. Thus the buying public is offered triple benefits in securing new Nash cars before the arrival of the 1930 models.

Buyers may avail themselves of the finest type of automobiles ever developed by the great Nash factories and cars which have incorporated in them the advanced engineering principles which will also feature the year's new models. They are given the opportunity to write off the considerable sums in depreciation which usually affect current models when new ones are announced; and they may secure automobiles far in advance of their field at costs which strike a new low note.

For Sports Sake

NEW STUDEBAKER President eight convertible cabriolet has won favor throughout the country, according to L. J. Thomas, local Studebaker agent. Factory price includes the six wire wheels and trunk rack.

Indiana Registers 841,735 Motor Cars

Of the total motor vehicle registration of 841,735 in Indiana, 718,173 are passenger cars and the balance trucks or motorcycles, reports the California State Automobile association.

Brakes Should Be Checked Frequently

Due to the rapid increase of collisions and accidents, brakes should be looked at more frequently and the proper adjustment kept at all times, advises the free emergency road service of the California State Automobile association.

In the estimation of automotive engineers, these Nash reductions represent the highest automobile values known in American motor car history.

The airship proceeded up the English channel to the coast of France and at 12:30 a. m. Saturday passed over Paris. Thence she crossed France to the Swiss border at Basle and on to Friedrichshafen.

Greeted By Rain. It was raining when the zeppelin came home but an enthusiastic crowd was waiting at the hangar, and Friedrichshafen, the birthplace of dirigibles, was in universal excitement. About 1500 persons were admitted to the field, while thousands more gathered outside.

The airship circled the town and the field and then began to drop down to the hangar. The stern settled first. The passengers could be seen waving from the windows. A smooth landing was made and at 1:15 p. m. the zeppelin was in the hangar.

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN HERE MONDAY

might he wishes for Wednesday to come. But with the coming of the next Monday eager feet are not so eager—the student has begun to realize it's not fun any more, it's work. With this great fact impressed upon his mind, and with the realization that he is being "deceived," the student yawns, sighs, places his books under his arm and walks toward the school, wishing that the "damned old place" would burn down; I wouldn't care.

The fall semester of the year 1929-30 should be one of the most successful in the history of the Richmond school department, according to an announcement made from the offices of city superintendent of schools Walter T. Helms.

Final preparations have been made at the grammar, junior high and high schools of the city to make this semester one that will long be remembered.

Enrollment Normal. The enrollment in the grade schools is expected by school authorities to be normal, while an increase of almost 200 students is expected at the Richmond Union High School. New courses have been added at the high school, improvements have been made in classrooms and new teachers have been added to the staff.

And tomorrow morning between the hours of 7:30 and 8, thousands of Richmond homes will echo to the cries of: "Hurry now, children, you don't want to be late the first day of school."

Many Acres Burned. Fourteen thousand acres, 4,000 of which are in the national forest, have been laid to waste so far, and the fire continues to advance.

A total of three hundred weary men, including prisoners released from the county jail at San Luis Obispo, are attempting to burn back the advancing blaze. State fire inspector E. T. Barrons announced that two suspects were being questioned in Sonora in connection with the 30 separate fires set by incendiaries in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

Nearly a hundred separate fires have attacked the forests, grazing lands and brush areas of the state during the past week.

Miss Ulric, stage and screen star, will leave soon for New York for the winter theatrical season. Blackmer will remain here.

Neither would discuss the marriage beyond Blackmer's admission that it had taken place some months ago.

It is understood that the wedding was held at Croton-on-Hudson, New York, late in May.

Gilda Gray, life-long friend of the actress, was rumored to have been matron of honor.

Caution When Turning Corner

It isn't much fun to come to a sudden stop when you're driving an automobile. Therefore, remember to slow down at all turns of the road or you may halt more quickly than you anticipate. Always be prepared to stop when it is impossible to preceive what is around the corner. O. Henry used to say that romance might be around the corner waiting for you. But that was before the days of motor cars, points out the California committee on public safety.

Today, a reckless driver may be coming around that corner Sound your horn as you approach corners and curves. However, remember that blowing a horn never blew any pedestrian out of the way. Use your brakes as give other people the same kind of a "break" as you expect when you are not behind the wheel.

advises the safety committee which is engaged in a continuous statewide campaign to reduce the traffic accident toll. The committee is composed of representatives of some thirty organizations and state departments concerned with the traffic problem.

Anglers Aided By Government

Fishing, which is one of the favorite pastimes of the motor vacationist, can be enjoyed in practically every section of the country this summer as the result of an extensive program by the federal and state governments for stocking the streams.

Although California and some sections of the country stand out for game fish, especially the elusive mountain trout, generally speaking there is good fishing in practically every state of the Union.

Suggestions as to sections for fishing can be secured from the touring bureau offices of the California State Automobile association in thirty-two cities of northern and central California.

Every State Has Gasoline Tariff

Every state in the Union, including the District of Columbia, is now exercising a gasoline tax, states the National Automobile club. In 29 states this tax is four cents, or higher, per gallon. The State of Oregon was the first to inaugurate this system of taxation for motor cars. Illinois the last.

DESERT HORROR SHOWN IN FILM
 Portraying vividly the terrors of the sun-baked sands of the desert, John Gilbert's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, "Desert Nights," will be at the Fox California theater today. Mary Nolan and Ernest Torrence appear in prominent supporting roles.

 The story, which opens in the grim and death-infested regions of South Africa, is based on the sensational and daring robbery of a diamond mine. How the manager is tricked into displaying a fortune in uncut stones, only to be made a prisoner and forced to accompany his captors into the heart of the desert country in an effort to escape with the priceless loot, is one of the dramatic highlights of the production.

 The theme of the picture hangs on the merciless revenge of the mine manager when he discovers that his captors have been deserted by their guides and he is released in hopes that he might guide them to safety. His methods of torture in this primitive country is merely to keep them in want of water and he mockingly laughs at their terror of the desert and its torturing heat.

 The supporting cast includes Mary Nolan, and Ernest Torrence, stage and screen veterans, besides several hundred natives and soldiers who appear in the early sequences. William Nigh directed the picture from the story by John Thomas Neville and Dale Van Every.

 The talking comedy "The Big Balooka" furnishes plenty of laughs.

Christian Science
Lesson Subject
 "Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon today in all the churches of Christ, Scientist, the branches of the Mother Church,
 The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

 The citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon include the following from the Bible: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; . . . But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law. But of the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law." (Gal. 5:16, 17, 18, 22, 23.)

 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
 "Spirit and its foundations are then only realities of being. When we learn the way in Christian Science and recognize man's spir-ital being, we shall behold and understand God's creation—all the glories of earth and heaven and man. The universe of Spirit is peopled with spiritual beings, and its government is divine Science."
 (p. 264.)

MYSTERY FILM WILL OPEN
GREATER MOVIE SEASON HERE
 Earl Derr Biggers, whose cheruubic, genial countenance would never suggest that he writes the kind of shuddery thrillers which cause the perturbed reader to look under his bed before retiring, has become particularly interested in talking pictures of late because Fox Film Corporation has produced his mystery story, "Behind That Curtain," as an audible film which will open at the Fox-California theater Tuesday.

 And Biggers, recognized as one of the widest read writers in America, who was invited to Hollywood from his nearby home in Pasadena, Cal., for story conferences, found on looking the "speakee" field over that what seems to be most needed now are good feminine voices for the audible screen drama.

 "There seem to be comparatively few women players so far," said the playwright novelist, "who have voices that record well in talking pictures. It's a curiosity that to date men seem to monopolize the talent in this direction."
 "I presume it's because men, having voices of lower register, sound better. Women's voices are often pitched too high for talking pictures. The male actors all appear to enunciate better than the women. Some of the women seem to have greater difficulty pronouncing 's' so it won't be harsh, for it's the 's' and not the 'p'sRichmond Men

 nament which is being held at Bush-

 Remell won his first round yesterday afternoon by default. Peterson also won his match. Today both will have matches at Bush-rod park and are scheduled to play at 3:30 p. m. They will play together in the doubles to be ar-

GARAGE ADJACENT

FOR YEARS I had terrible pains in my right side. I also had liver and gall bladder trouble, which caused the pain to run clear around my back. All the healers whom I consulted said that I could not be helped unless an operation was performed. Being aware that many of my friends had been greatly benefited by the Fong Wan herbs, I began to take them. I drank the tea consecutively for seven weeks, at the end of which time I felt that my relief was complete. Now I have added the satisfaction of knowing that it is also permanent, for a year has elapsed and I am still free from pain and feel splendid.

OLD TIMERS SHOW SKILL IN GAME

"Do you remember when..." Old time baseball players, more than 60 strong, gathered at the Oakland Coast league ball park yesterday, to show the younger generation how baseball was played in the "good old days."

Among the old time stars were Chick Autry, and Artie Schimpf of Richmond. Autry was on the keystone sack and Schimpf held down shortstop for the "Earls" during the game. The "Earls" the opposing team of "Old Timers", won the contest by a score of 7 to 1.

Autry declared that it was a "great day." He said he met the ball players with whom he used to play years ago. One player he hadn't seen for 25 years.

Following the baseball game, the "Old Timers" gathered in the dressing rooms and engaged in "hitting practice." Ghosts of old time baseball players, who were once the ideals of American boys, huddled together again as the players told of their experiences.

The players are members of the Old Time Baseball Players association and the game was a part of the annual reunion held by the association.

Stork 'Fixes' Traffic Tag

The stork probably saved Reece White, of El Cerrito, from paying a stiff fine for speeding in the court of Justice Oliver Young in Berkeley recently.

White was arrested several weeks ago by officer S. E. O'Brien. White told Judge Young that he was racing against time and the stork. He produced a birth certificate and proudly told the court that "It's a girl."
